Has Data Management Become Your Responsibility?

The US is serious about data management legislation, regulation and enforcement.

Historically, legal departments managed data privacy and championed compliance work, especially if a company lacked resources. Today, data protection and management goes well beyond checking a compliance box. Both C-Level executives AND IT leaders are now tasked with the responsibility of data protection and management. to include things like:

- Breach Prevention
- Risk Mitigation
- Insurance Eligibility
- Lawsuit Management
- Business Reputation Management
